A Handlist to the Charles Lamb Society Collection at Guildhall Library

Preface

This handlist is intended as a permanent record of a survey for the Charles Lamb Society of their Collection of Eliana at Guildhall Library and as an aid to curators and users of the collections. Wherever appropriate a full description of each item has been given and references allocated.

I hope this handlist will capture the interest of others who may not have had the time or inclination to embark upon research. Although this list is not continuous prose a perusal of what follows will allow more recent CLS members a stronger grasp of their Society's history and past activities. One purpose of this survey is to promote further research on Charles Lamb and his circle through making the collections available to the public; another, to encourage the growth of the Collection. I hope this will be so.

Acknowledgements

I would like to acknowledge the Charles Lamb Society and Guildhall Library for entrusting me with the preparation of this handlist. In particular I would like to thank those CLS officers and members who have offered help and advice and have been so patient, D. E. Wickham, Madeline Huxstep, Duncan Wu, Nick Powell, Dr D. G. Wilson and the late Reggie Howell. All members of staff at Guildhall Library and Guildhall Art Gallery have helped me on my way but in particular I am grateful for support and advice from Irene Gilchrist, Jo Wisdom, Ruth Barriskill, Jeremy Smith, Kate Royce, Paula Jarman, Sarah Ash, John Fisher and the Conservation team. Thanks also go to Tomoko Sato of the Barbican Art Gallery for translating Japanese texts.

Information on Guildhall Library

The original medieval library at Guildhall was founded in the 1420s under the terms of the will of Richard Whittington. It survived until the mid 16th century when the contents were forcibly removed, apparently to furnish the library of the Lord Protector, Edward Duke of Somerset. The modern institution dates from 1824 when the Corporation of London established a committee to discuss the formation of a reference library 'of all matters relating to the City, the Borough of Southwark and the County of Middlesex'. It has been situated in the west wing of Guildhall since 1974.

The library has facilities for the disabled, including toilets and, by prior arrangement, car parking. The Bookshop is open Monday - Friday only 9.30 am - 4.45 pm.

1. Introduction

History of the Charles Lamb Society Collection

Following the formation of the Charles Lamb Society in 1935 one of the established objects of the Society was to form a collection of Eliana. The Edmonton Public Libraries Committee agreed to provide a permanent home for the accumulation of Eliana in the Central Library, Fore Street in Edmonton, under the care of Edmonton Librarian Mr F. E. Sandry, a CLS member and Hon. Librarian. A system was established to allow CLS members to borrow books for study, either by post or in person. Further opportunities to make the collection available were made by S. K. Jones, the other Hon. Librarian, at the Dr Williams' Library (University Hall) by housing a selection of titles in the Bookcase Memorial of E. F. Lewis, (Hon. Treasurer 1938-46), which was unveiled in 1947.

By 1955 the Collection had reached approximately 1600 items and so negotiations were entered into with the Edmonton Libraries Committee for a separate area to accommodate the CLS collection. Through the Library's cooperation and finances provided by the Society, a Charles Lamb Room was officially opened on 10 September 1955, providing a retreat for research by Lamb students. Fittings and fixtures were financed by a donation from Mr T. Edward Carpenter as a memorial to his brother Gilbert, a member of the Charles Lamb Society.

The growth of the Collection of Eliana has benefitted from the generosity of those individuals who have given or bequeathed their own collections to the Society. Substantial gifts include the following: bequest of John M. M. Turnbull (1884-1950), Lamb scholar and collector of Eliana, of Pretoria, South Africa, received by the Society in 1952; Edward J. Finch (1865-1955), Elian scholar and collector of prints, who presented his collection of several hundred prints on Lamb and London in 1951; George Wherry Collection of Eliana, (1852-1928), surgeon, author, co-organizer of the Charles Lamb Dinners in Cambridge 1909-14, and collector, his collection was presented to the Society by his daughter Mrs B. Oldfield in 1951; bequest of Samuel Morris Rich (1877-1949), founder Editor of the CLS Bulletin, Vice-Chairman and Vice-President, his collection was passed to the Society by his son Sidney Rich as a memorial in 1955 - it numbered about 750 items and had been kept by Rich in what he called his Lamb Room with furniture and prints of the Lamb period (cf. CLS pam 512, William Kent's article of 1946 about Rich's Lamb Room); Downing Bequests, being the collection of Frank A. Downing, the organizer of the Charles Lamb Superannuation Dinner and founder of The Elian (Society), and his wife Maude Downing. Following her husband's death in 1950, Mrs Downing presented only one box of papers relating to The Elian (Society) in 1958, the rest having been destroyed in 1941 when Downing's office was bombed. In 1963 Mrs Downing died and the remainder of the collection was distributed between the Society and, at the suggestion of Edmund Blunden, Christ's Hospital; Ernest George Crowsley Bequest (1902-70), founder and Hon. Secretary of the Charles Lamb Society, left his collection of books and ephemera and funds for a new edition of a catalogue of the CLS Collection of Eliana. Duplicate titles were donated to Camden Libraries.

The Society has received many items from other benefactors too numerous to mention here but include gifts from Trevor Leigh-Hunt, who was the first to donate volumes, written by his great-grandfather, to the CLS Collection in 1935 (and can be found amongst the numbers CLS 785-813, and 821), Edmund Blunden, Walter Farrow (CLS Chairman 1935-64), Herbert G. Smith (editor of CLS Bulletin 1948-72), who diligently added typescripts of accounts and addresses to Mr Rich's collection and that of the CLS, Miss Florence S. Reeves (Membership Secretary 1947-85) and many authors and publishers donating their own works. Items from any of these collections or individuals and those not already named are cited in the handlist where appropriate.

Guildhall Library

The Collection of books (and various papers) was moved to the Guildhall Library in 1978/9. The remaining archive and ephemera collections were at first looked after by individual members in their homes but were later gathered together at the United Reformed Church in Putney. Further material was presented to the Society in 1992 by Edmonton Library where remnants of the CLS collection were recovered and the Library's Romantic period books had been deaccessioned. Society members had a chance to view the archive and the most recent addition of books at Putney at the Open Day in April 1993 (cf. account by D. E. Wickham, CLB NS 83 (1993) 108-10). On this occasion representatives from Guildhall Library were able to assess the collection at Putney and compare it with a list of the 'miscellaneous CLS items' already deposited at Guildhall Library.

In May 1993 it was decided to transfer the remaining collection at Putney and unite the archive at Guildhall Library. The housing of all the Society's collection on one site has obvious advantages to researchers: Guildhall Library is served well by public transport; the City location is accessible to many nearby attractions and nestles alongside Charles Lamb's city associations.

The collection of books, archive, pictures and ephemera has been distributed between the three sections at Guildhall Library and the oil paintings deposited with Guildhall Art Gallery, all with their own specialist staff. Further details about individual sections and access conditions to the CLS collection are given in the appropriate chapter, arranged by Section.

2. Printed Books

The Printed Books Section specializes in collecting printed material on London, past and present, concentrating on the 'Square Mile' of the City of London but offering many items for the rest of Greater London. The collections are of great value to the historian, genealogist and City professional, embracing many aspects of City life. The Library is home to other specialist collections in addition to the CLS Collection.

The computer catalogue or OPAC (Online Public Access Catalogue) has been installed to improve the service to the Library's users. The computer's instructions are simple to follow and staff are always at hand to help.

The Section holds many basic reference works, such as encyclopedias and dictionaries, The Times newspaper and also bibliographical databases on compact disk to include British Books in Print, and the British Library Catalogue. Staff will always advise on sources of information in Guildhall Library and elsewhere.

2.1 Access Conditions

Guildhall Library is a reference library only.

Requests to consult printed sources from the Charles Lamb Society Collection must be made 48 hours in advance of visit by arrangement. Orders can be given in writing to the Principal Reference Librarian, in person at the Printed Books Enquiry Desk or by telephone on 071-332 1868/1870.

The Library is open from Monday - Saturday 9.30 am - 5 pm.

A Handlist to the Charles Lamb Society Collection at Guildhall Library

Other holdings are available without prior formality during normal opening hours. Please note that the bookstacks are closed on Saturdays between 12 noon and 2 pm, and at 4.45 pm Monday to Saturdays.

Readers requiring rare or valuable items are asked to produce proof of identity and address. (Driver's licences, PRO or British Library reader's passes or other public library cards are all suitable identification.)

Items to be photocopied must be shown to the Enquiry Desk staff who will advise on the suitability of the book for this purpose.

Photographic arrangements can also be made in consultation with staff on duty. Permission must be sought from the Charles Lamb Society for the publication of material from the collection.

2.2 Charles Lamb Society Collection: Printed Books

The collection comprises various editions of Lamb's works and secondary sources about him and his circle. It is home to many 19th-century periodicals, some with works of Lamb and his circle, others being rare and important titles for the London holdings and periodicals at Guildhall Library. Recent publications are being added to the collection where it seems appropriate and gifts of scholars' postgraduate theses are encouraged.

At the time of writing the Society has 1888 book titles (occupying 243 linear feet), 533 pamphlet titles (almost 9 linear feet) and 119 CLS lecture titles (2 linear feet). Before the deposit of additional titles from Putney in 1993, all books had been entered on the OPAC computer system at Guildhall Library (cf. D. E. Wickham's report, CLB NS 78 (1992) 206-10). The remainder are being added by Guildhall Library's cataloguing section.

The majority of the books are English publications but the collection boasts translations of Lamb's works and secondary sources in Japanese, Dutch, Swedish, French, German, Italian and even the Ga language of the former Gold Coast, (CLS 1695). Braille editions are also available and include the Essays of Elia, 5 volumes (CLS 1554), and Poetry and Prose with essays of Hazlitt and De Quincey, 4 volumes (CLS 1637).

Curiosities and treasures are many. Acquisitions over the years include items reputed to be from Lamb's own library: T. E. Carpenter presented an annotated copy of Horae Subsecivae, 1620 (CLS 1318), inscribed at the back as 'apparently CL's copy with notes in his handwriting', believed to have been bought from Miss Dobell. A presentation copy of Spirit of Chambers's Journal, 1834, is inscribed to Lamb from the editors (CLS 1751). Some volumes claimed by R. C. Jackson to have been bought from the Moxon book sale in 1858 by his grandfather and described as 'the relics of Charles Lamb's library' (cf. Prance, pp. 168-9) were presented in 1950 by the wife of Reginald Hine: The Bachelor, 1817 (CLS 722), Homeri Ilias, (CLS 742), The Royal French Grammar, 1720 (CLS 845), and titles by Byerley (CLS 877) and Domeier (CLS 878). Another relic, Juvenal's Satires (CLS 1371) was purchased by E. G. Crowsley in 1960 and presented to the Society.

Other books of interest include those with the original bookplates of Barron Field (CLS 1643) and William Hazlitt (CLS 1353), and George Darley's Sylvia 1827, a presentation copy from the author to Fanny Kelly (CLS 534). From the Turnbull Bequest the Society received various rare items: a first edition (second issue) of Elia, 1823 (CLS 188) and a first edition of Last Essays of Elia, 1833 (CLS 90); a set of The London Magazine 1820-5, believed to have belonged to John Clare (CLS 1371); Montgomery's Climbing Boys' Album, once owned by William Lisle Bowles (CLS 1293). Amongst the collection of George Dyer books and manuscripts (gathered by J. Rogers Rees and later bequeathed as part of the collection of S. M. Rich) are annotated and inscribed copies of Dyer's works in his own hand (can be found amongst the numbers CLS 553-80, and elsewhere).

A Handlist to the Charles Lamb Society Collection at Guildhall Library

One notable and unusual acquisition is S. M. Rich's About Charles Lamb, 1932-49 (15 volumes and 1 folio volume) (CLS 1526), being an unique and original collection of cuttings, pictures, articles and fugitive material of various dates and places of origin. Fourteen volumes have been bound in red leather with gilt edging, the fifteenth volume still kept in its box-file as Rich left it, preserving his methods of collecting and indexing. Each volume has its own index, with additional separate indexes. A catalogue of Rich's whole extraordinary library (1937-48) can be found at CLS 1527.

The Society also owns the rare work of John Lamb's Poetical Pieces On Several Occasions, c. 1770 (CLS 1524). There are said to be only four copies of this work in existence. This copy was given by Canon Alfred Ainger to James Dykes Campbell in 1892. The Charles Lamb Society purchased the volume in 1957 by means of donations from the Society's members.

An unusual item curated by the Printed Books Section is The Lamb Medal. A silver medal was awarded annually for the best English essay by a Grecian at Christ's Hospital school from 1875 until 1948, when it was replaced by the award of books. Designed by A. B. Wyon, the obverse side of the medal shows a relief portrait of Lamb; the reverse shows the arms of Christ's Hospital. The winner's name was engraved around the edge with the year of award. This medal was presented to the Charles Lamb Society in 1954 by a member, John Whittingham Hackett of Ashford who received it in 1921.

2.2.1 The CLS Pamphlet and Large Pamphlet Collection

Consists mainly of 19th- and 20th-century periodical offprints, both English and foreign publications, of poetry and research. Other items include exhibition guide books (CLS pam 299-317), lecture and research typescripts (CLS pam 318-73, 434-40), playscripts and radio broadcast scripts (CLS pam 374-93), sale catalogues (CLS pam 441-88), commemorative programmes (CLS pam 505-10, 523-9). The Society has most recently received Yasuhiko Ozawa's Bibliography of reviews of the works of Charles Lamb, 1994 (CLS pam 533) in addition to his earlier gift, Bibliography of articles in periodicals in criticism of Charles Lamb, 1973 (CLS pam 532).

2.2.2 The CLS Lecture Collection

All titles in this series are lectures and addresses identified as being delivered at meetings of the Charles Lamb Society (which includes some lectures given at the Glasgow Branch of CLS), covering 1936-76.

2.2.3 Charles Lamb Society Publications

The following are also available for consultation from the Printed Books Section:

2.2.3.1 Charles Lamb Bulletins

3. Manuscripts

Guildhall Library Manuscripts Section

The Manuscripts Section at Guildhall Library is the local record office for the City of London collecting material for the Square Mile. The holdings date from the 11th century and include the archive of St Paul's, City Livery companies, City parishes, business records and individuals connected with the City.

Of special interest to the Society amongst the Guildhall Library's holdings are the older records of Christ's Hospital school. These include the admissions and discharge registers of pupils 1563-1911 which list, for example, the discharge in 1774 of George Dyer from Christ's Hospital to Emmanuel College, Cambridge (GL Ms 12,818/10, fo.134), and presentation papers containing petitions submitted by parents: Charles Lamb 1781 (GL Ms 12,818A/53, fo.104), S. T. Coleridge 1782 (GL Ms 12,818A/54, fo.67), Leigh Hunt 1791 (GL Ms 12,818A/62, fo.158) (all available for consultation on microfilm). Other material includes a transcript of a letter from Coleridge to -- Marten, giving an account of a journey to Wales, 1794 (with an obituary of James Coleridge attached) (GL Ms 3626).

3.1 Access Conditions

Requests to consult material from the Charles Lamb Society Manuscript Collection must be made 48 hours' notice in advance of visit. Orders can be placed in writing to the Keeper of Manuscripts, in person to the Archivist on Duty or by telephone 071-332 1863/1862.

The Reading Room is open Monday - Saturday, 9.30 am - 4.45 pm. (Last orders for manuscripts from other Guildhall Library holdings: 4.30 pm; no manuscripts can be produced on Saturdays between 12 noon and 1 pm.)

Pencils only to be used in the Reading Room.

Readers requiring rare or valuable items are asked to produce proof of identity and address.

Photocopying of original documents has to be restricted for conservation purposes, but photography is often possible; staff will be pleased to give further advice.

Permission must be sought from the Charles Lamb Society for the publication of material from the collection.

3.2.1 18th- and 19th-century autograph letters and manuscripts

This collection of autograph letters and manuscripts is arranged alphabetically by name of signature and not in numerical sequence.

A Handlist to the Charles Lamb Society Collection at Guildhall Library

References to the Charles Lamb Society Manuscripts are given on the right hand side of each entry, e.g. CLS Ms 29. These numbers are unique to each item and should be cited when making a request to consult manuscripts.

DYER, George [1755-1841]

Scholar, poet, man of letters and friend of Lamb.

18 letters, 1802; 1810-12; 1814; 1824; 1827; 1834/5 and 1 letter found with this collection from D. B. Montagu?

The collection of George Dyer letters (CLS Mss 15/1-19 and those collated in Printed Books, CLS 567, see below) once formed part of the Samuel Morris Rich Collection. A catalogue compiled in 1937 by S. M. Rich lists the letters along with other material on George Dyer and can be found at Printed Books, CLS pam 364 (cf. also letter from Rich to Downing 1937 where this is discussed).

It would appear from this catalogue that these letters, along with a great majority of Rich's collection on George Dyer, once belonged to John Rogers Rees, author and writer on Charles Lamb and collector of Eliana (cf. Prance 281). (A sales catalogue cutting from the Turnbull Collection lists 18 Dyer letters, the description of which corresponds with this collection; it is possible that Rich bought the Rees collection in 1923 through Dulau, cf. CLS P/E 51.)

Mrs Gertrude A. Anderson [1875-1924], author and Lamb scholar (cf. Prance 9-10), is said to have corresponded with Rees and has certainly worked on the Dyer letters, either with Rees or after his death. Pencil notes and markings, some signed GAA, have been made on some letters by Mrs Anderson (identified with her writing elsewhere) and where this occurs a note has been made below and referred to as 'GAA'. Two versions of transcripts exist for these letters, one or both compiled by Mrs Anderson with her notes, references and allocation of dates. Her work has been retained for the purpose of this handlist and a transcript page reference has been listed where one exists.

Transcripts of letters of George Dyer

Carbon copy, 31 pages, with contents page compiled in the hand of S. M. Rich. A note by Rich indicates two missing letters (possibly missing when he acquired the collection?): pp. 6-9 a transcript of a George Dyer letter of 1807 to Miss Betham(?) and p. 22, a transcript of a letter written to Miss Betham from C. Nooth, 1810 [2nd copy photocopied onto archival paper]

C]

Rich Collection

A bound volume titled George Dyer containing letters written and received by George Dyer along with articles and letters from E. V. Lucas (1902, 1904) and Theodore Watts-Dunton (1902) collected by John Rogers Rees (inscribed, Sarum 1907). Handwritten notes in pencil by Mrs G. A. Anderson have been inserted on strips of paper; some of the information has been included below and is referred to as 'GAA'. Notes made by Rees appear either in purple ink or pencil, sometimes initialled. (It is possible that C. E. Lawrence may have consulted this volume, cf. his comment and initials, p. 16, and also Edmund Blunden, cf. p. 37.) This volume once formed part of the Rich Collection. [NB This has been catalogued in the CLS book collection, reference CLS 567, and would need to be consulted in the Printed Books Section at Guildhall Library.]

11 letters written by George Dyer:

THE ALBUM OF MARY SAYWELL

An album containing handwritten poems and paintings, some by Mary Saywell herself, others being quotations from contemporary poets. Family and friends also contributed to the album and includes on p. 24 two stanzas To M- S-, signed C. Lamb, dated 5 October 1830. The album was begun sometime before 1830 and finished after March 1863, the last date entered on p. 193. Inscribed by Mary Saywell (and later inscription by Richard Wiseman Merrett, vicar of St John's, Colchester). 210 pages and 9 illustrations in bound volume.

Literature: Rosenbaum, LmC 170, p. 168, incorrectly described as 'unlocated'; first published CLS Bulletin, January 1959, p. 226; reproduced on the Charles Lamb Birthday Celebration menu, 10 February 1973, and CLS Bulletin April 1973, p. 75.

Presented by Mrs E. Josephine Merrett, 1972. The Album passed to her on the death of her husband Arthur Saywell Merrett, a CLS member, who was a great-nephew of Mary and Richard Saywell. The Album was originally one of two owned by Mary Saywell and were both kept by her nephew Richard Wiseman Merrett until his death in 1919. They passed to his son Arthur Saywell Merrett in 1958/9 but the whereabouts of the second are unknown. Little is known about Mary or her husband Richard Saywell, who is described by the Merretts as either 'something in the City' or as having kept a bookshop in Featherstone Buildings, Holborn. According to family legend the Saywells lived in Islington and became friends of the Lambs. Charles Lamb refers to 'Emma' in his two stanzas to Mary Saywell and it is possible that Emma Isola is the connecting link between the families.

3.2.4 The Elian (Society)

Following the Charles Lamb Superannuation Dinner at the Inner Temple in 1925, The Elian (Society or Club) was founded in honour of Charles Lamb with F. A. Downing as the first secretary. Membership was restricted to men and by invitation only, limiting the number of members to 59 (being Charles Lamb's age at the time of his death); the membership list included many notable names. Meetings combined a dinner, often held at the Cheshire Cheese, Fleet Street, with addresses or discussion given by guest speakers or members. Occasionally the dinners were open to guests and ladies' nights. With the outbreak of war, meetings became less frequent and had ceased by 1940; the dining club was certainly defunct by 1948/9. Some members of The Elian also became involved with the Charles Lamb Society.

Many of the papers of The Elian held by F. A. Downing were destroyed by a bomb in 1941. (Cf. also CLS P/E 1 for ephemera, menus and tickets of The Elian.)

THE ANNUAL CHARLES LAMB BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

In honour of Charles Lamb's birthday on 10 February, the Society has held an annual celebration luncheon (preceded by dinners), on or near this date. The Guests of Honour are asked to propose the toast 'to the immortal memory of Charles Lamb' and two Grecians from Christ's Hospital are invited to read grace. The 'Birthday Dinners' (later known as 'Birthday Luncheons') began 10 February 1936. During the Second World War food rationing and blackouts forced the Society to transform the Birthday Dinners into afternoon tea parties; the dinners were resumed in 1950.

Birthday Dinner/Luncheon menus, tickets and photographs can be found at CLS P/E 4-6 and 8.

LAMB MEMORIAL

In 1934, the centenary year of Charles Lamb's death, The Elian (Society) launched a public appeal to fund a memorial to Charles Lamb. Members of the Appeal Executive Committee, (involving, amongst others, Sir James Barrie, E. V. Lucas, Edmund Blunden, J. P. Collins and E. J. Finch) commissioned a portrait bust of Charles Lamb by Sir William Reynolds-Stephens RA. The memorial was placed on the north wall of Christ's Church, Greyfriars, and was unveiled by Lord Plender on 5 November 1935. Although the church was bombed in 1941, the memorial survived and was removed to Christ's Hospital for safe-keeping.

Under the guidance of the Charles Lamb Society, the memorial was returned to London in 1962 and erected on the rebuilt Watch Tower of the Holy Church of St Sepulchre, Giltspur Street. The accompanying inscription was revised in 1965. (Cf. CLS P/E 18 for ephemera.)

BUTTON SNAP

Button Snap, Cherry Green, nr. Buntingford, Hertfordshire

A thatched cottage left by Francis Fielde (Charles Lamb's godfather) to his wife Sarah Fielde in 1809; she conveyed it to Charles Lamb in August 1812. In 1815 Lamb sold 'Button Snap' to Mr Thomas Greg for £50. The cottage remained in the Greg family until 1947 when Mrs M. Greg presented it to the Royal Society of Arts. In 1949 the RSA sold Button Snap for £400 to the Charles Lamb Society. The Society leased the property to tenants until April 1985 when rising costs forced the Society to sell Button Snap.

4. Prints, Maps and Drawings

The collection consists of engravings, drawings, maps, photographs and the Noble ephemera collection which relate to London. The majority of images are topographical views covering 17th-20th centuries and include views and images of Elian interest. The Society's collection of material on the theatre complements Guildhall Library's own holdings of theatre bills.

4.1 Access

Requests to consult material from the Charles Lamb Society Collection of pictures and ephemera must be made 48 hours' notice in advance of visit.

The Print Room is open Monday - Friday, 9.30 am - 5 pm (closed Saturdays).

It is advisable to make an appointment with Print Room Staff either in writing to the Keeper of Prints, Maps and Drawings, in person at the Enquiry Desk or by telephone 071-332 1839. Because of the fragility of the material of the CLS collection and the Guildhall Library holdings generally, unsupervised browsing is not permitted and staff assist with all enquiries.

Pencils only may be used in the Print Room.

As a rule photocopying is not allowed, but arrangements can be made for researchers to take their own photographs or photographic prints and transparencies to be supplied.

Permission must be sought from the Charles Lamb Society for the publication of material from the collection.

5.2 Charles Lamb Society portraits

GEORGE DYER (1755-1841)

By John Jackson, RA (1778-1831)

Oil painting on canvas, in frame, n.d.

Formerly in the collection of Dr George Wherry, co-founder of the Lamb Dinners in Cambridge. Given to the Charles Lamb Society by his daughter Mrs Beatrix Oldfield and presented on 14 February 1959 at the Charles Lamb Birthday Celebration by Sir Sydney Roberts, Guest of Honour. Mrs Oldfield acquired the painting in 1958 from the late Charles H. Armbruster OBE, (1874-1957), a political and intelligence officer, in Majorca, Spain (address: Marmacén, Puerto de Andraitx). Inscription (written in three hands) on back of canvas reads:

This portrait of Lamb's George Dyer by Jackson RA was presented by William Frend of Jesus College Cambridge MA and SW [Second Wrangler] celebrated in his day and now (1891) belongs to his son Henry Tyrwhitt Frend, Barrister-in-Law and now to W.W. Frend. 1896.

There is also an exhibition label:
